SCRIPTED DRAMEDY

LINE UP follows two multigenerational families waiting in line. Just like us, they might feel all too alone in these confined moments. This simple backdrop brings strangers and their loved-ones together and also highlights how easy it is to get on each other's nerves... it always seems to be during the longest line!

Between these stressful and calm pauses, relationships evolve between young and old family members as they reveal their insecurities and vulnerabilities. Throughout the season, we discover what ties all of these unique characters together in funny or heartbreaking ways. The slice-of-life concept through line-ups lends itself to adaptation in different countries, and the variety of character ages appeals to audiences of different walks of life.

This series differs from other family series by a multilayered treatment in writing and character development. The directing touch gives the actors the opportunity to touch us deeply and explore what diversity and intergenerational relationships means in your country.

SCRIPTED DARK COMEDY

After the resounding failure of their implausible procedural series The Law of Justice, two TV showrunners are forced by their producers to write another season. To restore their honour, and shake their reputation as flimsy researchers, they decide to get authentic criminal experience to spice up their second season.

Will their attempts at duplicating their fiction in the real world bring credibility to their script or merely attract unwanted attention from darker players? Fiction abruptly clashes with reality in a twisted sense of humour.

SCRIPTED COMEDY

Steve, Remy, Peter and Carlos, on the cusp of turning thirty, try to relive their care-free twenties to escape their monotonous lives. These INVINCIBLES are determined to reach for happiness despite all obstacles, even the ones they create themselves.

To start from fresh the four lifelong friends make a pact to break up with their girlfriends together. What follows in the two first seasons is their struggle to balance their desire for freedom and their need for stability. The tables turn in the final season when "their" women decide to take a break from their self-centered partners.
